Our health law attorneys assist healthcare providers with operational and regulatory matters, including professional licensing, compliance planning, Medicare/Medicaid issues and appeals, DEA issues, and provider contracting. We support physicians, medical groups, senior living facilities, ambulatory surgical centers, assisted living and skilled nursing facilities, home health agencies and hospices, healthcare infrastructure companies, and medical information and technology companies.

Our healthcare practice encompasses health law, financing, real estate, litigation, labor and employment, regulation, licensure, and compliance. Our practitioners include a board certified health law specialist as well as an attorney with an MD and MBA who understand the industry and the interplay of day to day operations with legal requirements.
